Report of Committe on Finance

We, your Committee on Finance, beg leave to submit the following report:

Inasmuch as the tithing system is taught in the Old and New Testaments, and realizing that man has not devised a plan of financing the work of the church which surpasses God's system, we recommend the following:

First: That all lay members pay their full tithe into the treasury of the local church in which they hold their membership, said tithe to be disbursed by the official board of the local church, except as provided in this report.

Second: That no layman shall be eligible to hold official position in the local church who fails to comply with this aforesaid financial system.

Third: That all ministers in the North Carolina Conference of the Pentecostal Holiness Church shall pay one-half of their ministerial tithes into the conference treasury, the other one-half into the treasuries of the church or churches they serve, or into the treasury of the church in which they hold their membership. (The conference tithe is to be paid into the conference treasury monthly).

Fourth: That no minister of the conference shall be eligible to official position or pastor any church who fails to comply fully with section three of this report.

Fifth: That in recognition of our responsibility to our Conference Superintendent, we recommend that he be paid $100 per month from the conference treasury for his services and $300 per year for his traveling expenses. And all offerings for support of the conference superintendent shall be forwarded to the conference treasurer for disbursement.

Sixth: That each local church shall have one common treasury, and that five (5) per cent be paid from the local treasury into the conference treasury monthly.

Seventh: That in view of the foregoing recommendations in sections five and six, the conference superintendent be required to devote his full time to conference work.

Eighth: That the conference superintendent shall work out a plan with the local church board in devising a way whereby each pastor may be paid a stipulated amount, and that churches pay their pastors for the week-end the annual conference is in session.

Ninth: That the Official Board of the North Carolina Conference make no donations to any cause unless in cases of extreme need, and that all loans from the conference treasury be made at six (6) per cent interest and only when good security is given in endorsement.

Tenth: We recommend the following appropriations be made at this session of the North Carolina Conference:

Ten (10) per cent of the conference tithe be used for the evangelizing of needy fields.

Fifteen (15) per cent of the conference tithe to be placed in the Superannuate Fund.

Bishop J. H. King, at this sitting of the conference, the sum of $250.00, and $25.00 per quarter for the ensuing year.

Rev. Jerome Hodges, Conference Superintendent, $50.00.

Rev. C. B. Strickland, Conference Secretary-Treasurer, at this sitting of the conference $25.00 and $75.00 for the ensuing year.

Franklin Springs Institute, $50.00.

Holmes Bible and Missionary Institute, $25.00.

Mrs. C. B. Strickland, assistant to secretary-treasurer at this sitting of the conference, $5.00.

Printing of the minutes to be paid from the conference treasury.

Respectfully submitted,
W. Eddie Morris,
D. J. Little,
S. A. Fann.
Finance Committee.

Report of the Committee on Prohibition and Public Morals

Viewing the onward surge of tides of evil and observing the trend toward a compromise with worldliness, we call upon our people as a Pentecostal Holiness Church to declare the certainty of their position with respect to righteous action and opposition to the widespread iniquity which abounds on every side, and we, your Committee on Temperance and Public Morals, do submit these recommendations:

First: As we see the growing evils accompanying intemperance, observe the increased debauchery accompanying the indulgence in, and sale of, intoxicating beverages, we do declare our opposition to the legalization of the liquor traffic and do urge the importance of instruction and education in temperance, and as a Pentecostal Holiness Church call upon our people to vigorously wage a relentless warfare against manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating beverages in all forms, and also would invite the support of those public officials who stand for temperance, sobriety, and law enforcement.

Second: In view of the efforts to increase consumption of tobacco by our youth, especially by the young women of our land, we do urge that our pastors launch a more vigorous campaign against the tobacco habit, especially emphasizing the harmful effects mentally and physically, as well as spiritually.

Third: Believing in the value of precept and example as patterns of conduct, we urge that each of us "walk as becometh Holiness," setting examples of Christian conduct, and that in our homes there be created an atmosphere which does not savor of evil, especially in the display of pictures and adornment.

Fourth: Recommendation is made that in pastoral visits our ministers direct attention to the importance of family worship, provision of spiritual reading matter, especially such literature as is in harmony with the teachings of our church, and that we do not condone the presence of such reading matter as is calculated to blight the conscience and moral life, and paralyze spirituality. We further recommend that each family in the local churches subscribe to, and read regularly the official organ, The Advocate, and Youth's Leader be made available to the young people in our homes.

Fifth: We wish to voice our protest to the rising number of divorces and call on our ministers not to condone the divorce evil, but rather to give strong denunciation to the lightness with which so many consider the sacredness of matrimony, the sanctity of the home.

Sixth: We deplore the tendency toward light regard of personal obligations, use of frivolous speech, and the approach toward vulgarity and indecency of conversation and would remind our people of the statements in our discipline regarding such.

Seventh: We would sound this warning against Sabbath desecration, especially as regards Sunday pleasure-riding, engaging in commercial transactions, needless buying of articles which are not urgent or emergency needs.

As Christian citizens, we pledge our allegiance to American institutions not inconsistent with our convictions and scruples.

James W. Butler,
V. W. Callahan,
Hubert A. Morris.

Report of Committee on Sunday Schools and Pentecostal Young People's Societies

This committee takes recognition of the importance of the early religious training of our youth and respectfully requests this conference to give more attention to the essentials of Christian Education as may be carried forward in organized Sunday School and P. Y. P. S. activity.

We urge the promotion of these departments in a manner as set forth in the Constitution of Sunday Schools and Pentecostal Young People's Societies as adopted by the General Conference.

In furtherance of a successful Sunday School program, we recommend:

That pastors give encouragement to officers and teachers by attendance, and also by inviting new pupils; that pupils carry with them their Bibles and make use of them in study of the lesson; that teachers make use of the best helps available in preparation for the instruction they give their classes; that teachers hold such study courses and meetings as will enable them to better administer the Word of Life; that encouragement be given young Christians by using them in the Sunday School service in such positions as they may be qualified to fill efficiently, that Pentecostal Holiness literature be used in every department of the local schools.

Co-operation of pastors and laymen in an active manner with the membership of the Sunday Schools, and the North Carolina Conference Sunday School director will promote this phase of work in this area and will result in better and more thorough church school training.

Our youth offer to our church a challenge and opportunity. We feel that our conference will benefit in a great manner from the program of training and service provided for it through the P. Y. P. S.

We ask that consideration be given the following recommendations:

We offer the P. Y. P. S. as a training unit in the church to supplement the program of religious education facilities of the Sunday School, and that it be considered in the proper light as an integral part of the church.

That our people be encouraged by the pastors to attend the young people's meetings and special services which may be conducted in the interest of Sunday Schools and the P. Y. P. S. by those whom the conference chooses to elect to supervise and direct this work.

That this conference pledge its support and cooperation to the general officers and annual conference officers elected to fill positions of leadership in the P. Y. P. S. and that throughout the conference territory support be given the societies in each local church in the activities which our youth may undertake.

We recommend that in each district conference area, during one of the Conferences held in the year, there be held a special session for leadership of the Sunday School and the P. Y. P. S., such a program for the meeting being developed for the mutual benefit of officers and teachers and others interested in the problems which arise in the execution of their respective duties.

(1) We recommend that each Sunday School and P. Y. P. S. provide a library for its members and those who may attend.

(2) That the Sunday School evangelist and P. Y. P. S. president be invited as often as practical and that all of us cooperate with them in every way to promote the work.

(3) That financial remuneration be provided for them when they visit us.

(4) That a tithe from the Sunday School treasury be sent to the Sunday School Evangelist for his expenses in traveling.

(5) That a tithe from the P. Y. P. S. of each church be sent to the conference P. Y. P. S. President to defray his expenses of traveling and further enable him to carry on the work.

(6) That a P. Y. P. S. rally and Sunday School rally be held in connection with each district conference as may be arranged with the conference superintendent.

Respectfully submitted,
I. D. Dickens,
W. B. Godwin,
O. T. Howard.

Report of the Committee on Education

Your Committee on Education seeing the great need of a more earnest effort on the part of the Pentecostal Holiness people to become more vitally concerned and deeply interested in educating and training our children, and as far as possible fortifying them against false teaching and erroneous theories, do hereby submit the following recommendations and requests in this report:

First: That the ministers and officials, parents and guardians, read more, thus better preparing themselves in a better manner to recommend to others such literature and courses of study which are safe and beneficial.

Second: That, in so far as is possible, all our people patronize our church school at Franklin Springs, Ga. Also the Holmes Bible and Missionary Institute at Greenville, S. C., and the High School at Falcon, N. C., all institutions we can endorse as safe and sound on the essentials for Christian Education.

Third: That all our people study the Bible, read The Advocate and Youth's Leader and that all candiates applying for ministerial license complete the prescribed course of study now recommended by our General Conference.

Fourth: That ten per cent of the funds sent into our annual conference treasury be donated to our church school at Franklin Springs, Ga.

Respectfully submitted,
A. H. Butler
W. E. Thompson,
J. W. Wellons.

Report of Committee on Missions and Evangelism

We, your committee on Missions and Evangelism, recognize the efficiency and appreciate the good work done in the various mission fields by our faithful Missionaries backed up by the united efforts of the church at large in supporting the cause. We cannot overestimate the earnest efforts of our General Missionary Secretary, Bishop Dan T. Muse, in keeping the missionary activities of the church constantly before the people.

We submit the following recommendations:

1. That fervent prayer be offered daily for our Missionaries on the field as well as those in the homeland.

2. That Miss Ethel Strickland be appointed Missionary Evangelist of the North Carolina Conference.

3. That a monthly missionary service be held in each local church and that the pastor invite the Missionary Evangelist, other missionaries on furlough or speak on missions himself once each quarter.

4. In view of the fact that our last year's minutes show that eleven of our churches in the North Carolina Conference contributed nothing for foreign missions, we especially recommend that a Missionary Society be organized in each of our local churches and mission points, and when convenient that the pastor secure the service of the Conference Missionary for this purpose.

5. We heartily endorse the penny per day plan for each member of the local churches and societies urging that all pastors endeavor to keep this before their churches until the entire conference has reached this goal.

6. That each pastor endeavor to be a source of missionary information to his congregation gathering from The Advocate and other sources such material as will stimulate a missionary spirit among our people, and also encourage direct correspondence with our Missionaries on the fields.

7. That competent ministers be elected as District Evangelists.

8. That the Conference Official Board work out a satisfactory plan with the District Evangelist to keep him on the field, especially during tent season.

9. That a committee in each district be appointed at the first District Conference to help the Official Board raise money and to devise means to evangelize its territory.

10. That all who own or have the use of tents to do their best to keep them on the field in season; and all of us by the grace of God endeavor to spread the Gospel in unoccupied territories.

Respectfully submitted,
Ethel Strickland,
Jas. F. Epps,
H. D. Marshburn.

Report of Committee on Orphanage Work

"A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows is God in His holy habitation."—Psalms 68:5.

This position that God assumes as a father of the fatherless determines what He requires and expects of all His people as to their attitudes and responsibilities towards orphan children.

God's blessings are administered through human instrumentalities, and His provisions as a father of the fatherless are made available to them through those who will minister to their needs in His name in giving to them the protection and support of a father. Pentecostal christians should be the most active of all christians in orphanage work, because we recognize our bodies as the temples of the Holy Ghost, and testify that God dwells in us. Out of His holy habitation within us we ought to give Him the fullest manifestation as "a father of the fatherless." The Falcon Orphanage is a pentecostal institution, managed and controlled by pentecostal christians and offers its services to children of pentecostal parents to the extent of its ability. Therefore we ought to give it our most loyal and liberal support and co-operation.

Our Conference reports show that we have a number of churches that make no contributions to orphanage work, and on the basis of our membership we contributed last year less than a half a cent a day per member to the orphanage. We recommend that one Sunday in each month be designated as Orphanage Day in all our churches and missions, and that some one be elected or appointed to promote interest in, and support for orphanage work to the extent that, for the coming year, we may increase our offerings to the orphanage to at least an average of a penny a day per member. In this way we can more than double our contribution to orphanage work, and at the same time do credit to our churches and conference and thus fulfil the law of Christ in this phase of our work by "bearing one another's burdens."

Respectfully submitted,
J. A. Culbreth,
C. J. Seuis,
H. C. King.

Report of Committee on Memoirs

We would not be natural or human if we felt no sorrow or sadness in memorializing those who are dear to us after they have been separated from us, but in the case of one like our departed brother, Rev. M. D. Sellars, we, your committee, feel honored in being permitted to express for you, as best we can, the love and esteem in which this conference held our brother and friend.

We realize our words will not be adequate to the full expression we should like for them, or which we wish to make, as the years of sacrificial and loyal service, and the faithfulness with which Brother Sellars rendered, that service, would make him worthy of a deeper appreciation and a higher esteem than we can give expression to.

As we think of his life and service, so fruitful in good works and deeds of kindness, and his strong and assuring testimonies concerning his faith and experience, and remember his humble walk with God and unwavering convictions in the truth of Holiness, "we sorrow not as those who have no hope," but rather find comfort in those assurances of a like precious faith and hope that anchors our own souls "within the veil." Those of us who were in position to appreciate him more and love him better would not hesitate to say, as Paul wrote to the Philippians, "it was far better for him to depart and be with Christ, nevertheless it was more needful for us that he abide in the flesh" that his life and ministry might have continued to be an inspiration and example for us.

He that is dead yet speaketh, through his life and influence which still live on. "He fought a good fight, he kept the faith, he finished his course," and went home to be with the One he loved best of all, to receive the crown of a faithful steward.

May we live so as to meet him with all the redeemed of the Lord, in that day when all His jewels are gathered.

Humbly submitted,

E. W. Downing,
N. J. Ward,
Mrs. Victoria Moore.
